

Finding Collections to Add

There are hundreds of collections available to add to your own LUNA instance. To make the process easier, we have pulled together a list of all available shared collections that you can browse through, to curate the perfect set for your user base. The list is updated continually as LUNA clients with public shared collections upgrade to v7.5+ and as our team of experts find new sources of non-LUNA IIIF collections.

In the Sharing Tool, go to the Available Shared Collections tab to search for or browse through all of the available public Luna collections and selected non-LUNA IIIF collections.
